● Are you looking for a chair that blends classical with modern design? Then we have a perfect fit for you: the Techno chair is a combination of a comfortable upholstered seat and a timeless wooden base. The modern design of the chair and its attractive form are an ideal partnership, even for the most exacting users. If no wooden elements are planned for the interior, the alternative solutions are Techno chairs with chrome SL and Roll bases, and one leg or polypropylene legs in eccentric forms.

Please refer to the Techno fabrics sampler on page 110.

SHELL

The Shell chair is an excellent solution for minimalists. Shell has a stunning simple form, whose designer must have been inspired by nature. The profiled seat harmonises with the chrome base, which lends a touch of elegance to this piece.

Cepelia is a perfect chair for simple rooms that you might want to make special. Despite its simple form, Cepelia attracts attention owing to its openwork backrest, reminiscent of floral patterns. The chair will certainly be an asset to a modern kitchen, dining room or a restaurant. Cepelia is inspired by the Caprice chair design, and is available in black and white colour versions.

TulAr is a chair inspired by an iconic design piece – the Tulip Armchair by Eero Saarinen. It is considered a paragon of classic design, and is deemed timeless due to its unique form. Originally, the chair was designed to be complementary to a dining table. However, due to its vast functionality, it is not only a perfect addition to a dining room, but also to different rooms and commercial space. The base of the TulAr is made of lacquered metal; it supports a swivel seat with a cushion, which, together with armrests, makes for exceptionally pleasant daily use. The chair, inspired by the Tulip Armchair, is compatible with the Fiber table, and can also be combined with its version without armrests – the Tul chair. Available in several colour combinations.

PARIS

Minimalist looks in a designer showcase could be the catchphrase for the Paris collection of stools. The innovative use of pressed metal sheet as material for the production of furniture has turned out to be a success story. The Paris series is dedicated to all lovers of courageous forms and solutions, and to boredom fighters. Stools from this collection blend well with raw and industrial interiors, but also fit easily into rooms with a classic slant.

The Fiber table is a paragon of top-end design. The piece is inspired by Eero Saarinen's collection of tables, for which he received a prestigious Museum of Modern Art award in 1969. The table top, made of fibreglass, rests on a sturdy leg made of lacquered metal. The Fiber table combines functionality and outstanding form, and blends well with modern and traditional interiors. This model combines well with Tul and TulAr chairs, whose shapes are reminiscent of tulip flowers. The Fiber table is also available with 60 cm, 90 cm and 200 cm tops, and with a marble top.

H106 cm x W78 cm x D66 cm x SH44 cm x AH59 cm

The Jajo armchair is the essence of modernist applied art. It was inspired by a project by Arne Jacobsen, a Danish artist whose name makes design lovers' pulses race. He would comment on his style that "form follows function". And so does the Jajo armchair, inspired by the Egg Chair project. A comfy armchair, closing off the surrounding space, engulfs the occupant in relaxed mood. The upholstery is made of good-looking leather. The seat has a cushion for better comfort, in the same colour as the armchair.

The design of our armchair is a variation on the notorious Egg Chair project, spawned by Arne Jacobsen, an outstanding Danish designer. In 1958, this piece graced the interiors of the Radisson SAS hotel, where it became an instant icon. Today, it is believed to be a milestone in modern design thinking. It will ensure long periods of relaxation in an area emanating with peace and quiet. Our armchair is upholstered in wool. The stitching is in contrasting colour that fits the whole well. The seat has a cushion for better comfort of use.

The Cup armchair is a piece of furniture inspired by the Swan project, authored by the famous designer Arne Jacobsen. The Cup armchair is characterised by an absolute absence of angles and straight lines, which have been replaced with curves instead. The soft and nice-to-the-touch seat of the armchair rests on a stable steel base. Its cashmere upholstery is available in a wide range of colours, so that the armchair can lend special vibrancy to even the simplest room. The Cup chair will add charm to a home, and also to café or hotel interiors. The product is available in cashmere and leather versions.

FLOP

H83 cm x W63 cm x D56 cm x SH48 cm x AH83 cm

You cannot pretend this is not a designer piece, nor that it is modern and functional. The swivel Flop armchair, made of fibreglass and eco-leather, is a proposal dedicated for modernist interiors. The seat of the armchair rests on a chrome-plated base, which adds elegance to the piece. The Flop is also available on castors.

TAPPO

H64 cm x W92 cm x D92 cm x SH35 cm

A highly elegant and modern Tappo armchair will make you forget your worries and chill out for a while. Comfort is guaranteed by an eco-leather seat, which can be the same or a contrasting colour to the shell. The Tappo shell is made of high-quality fibreglass which, together with the upholstery, creates a modern composition. The Tappo armchair has an interesting swivel base. A tufted seat version is also available.

Is 'posh' your second name? If so, then the stylish form of the Cognac armchair might be to your liking. Its seat has been made of eco leather, which corresponds with the shell, while the swivel base makes it slightly wacky and casual. The chair has armrests, which make it even nicer to use. Its shape is reminiscent of a cognac glass, which adds class and luxury to the piece.

COGNAC

BARCELONA COLLECTION

The Barcelona collection of furniture has been inspired by the 1929 project of the renowned architect and designer Ludwig Mies van der Rohe. It is made of high-quality panel-tufted leather. The collection is characterised by a light and dynamic X-frame base. It emanates elegance, which turns it into a set of timeless pieces – it is a classic intended for modern interiors and will turn everybody's head.

SOFT GC
SOFT
KUBIK COLLECTION

The collections presented below have some common denominators, such as metal structures, and natural-leather seats and backrests. However, there are some differences between the individual collections. The Kubik armchair and sofas have two cushions on the seat, and the backrest and armrests are aligned. The Soft collection is quite similar, but it has just one cushion on the seat. The Soft GC is different in two important ways: the cushions are larger and plumper, and the backrest is higher. In each collection there is an armchair, and a 2-seater and a 3-seater sofa. The collections are also different in terms of element sizes.

Do you sometimes feel like it is time to lie in for a while and forget all your worries? If so, then the LC4 chaise lounge is the right piece for you. Its sturdy frame, made of stainless steel and meticulously profiled, will help you chill out in no time at all. Additionally, comfort is enhanced by a soft leather mattress and adjustable inclination of the frame. The LC4 is available in various colours, to fit in any interior you choose. It will blend easily with elegant office space or a home study. The chaise lounge is made on the basis of the project by Le Corbusier, a renowned representative of modernism, therefore its form is timeless and the design is top quality.

SNUG

H100 cm x W100 cm x D90 cm x SH37 cm x AH54 cm

The Snug's predecessor was born in 1948. The designer's main intention was to create a very comfy and snug armchair – and so he did. It is upholstered in cashmere, while the base is made of chrome-plated steel. The ergonomic form with armrests and an accompanying footstool are at the service of relaxation. The footstool can be easily used as an additional seat if you have many guests. The Snug armchair fits well into home interiors and is available in several colour versions.

Do you like to relax every now and then with a book in your hand? This is possible with the Wół armchair. When its precursor was being designed, one of the designer's concerns was for each user to find a comfortable position in the armchair. The Wół armchair is distinctive and easily recognisable thanks to its headrest being shaped like bull's horns. The black leather upholstery with a polished steel base create a striking composition, which makes the armchair elegant and modern. The set also includes a footstool to increase your comfort. The armchair is intended for a modern lounge or study.

LOFT

H38 cm x W80 cm x D80 cm

● A small Loft table made of modern fibreglass material will bring a touch of softness to your rooms. Its rounded edges make it look innocent, and three subtle dimples add to its charm. It can be used as a side table for snacks or a mug of steaming hot tea. It can also provide an interesting solution for a modern waiting room or café.

FLEW

H55 cm x W45 cm

● Do you feel like a very classy tête-à-tête? The Flew table is a real head turner with exceptional form and extraordinary design, and it does not need to be awfully functional. It is enough for it to accommodate two espresso cups and two bosom friends. Recommended for café interiors where space is scarce.

● Coffee spills on the table will never be a problem again – if your coffee table is a Spin II with a tempered glass top. The designer Spin is modern and functional; the sides of the table have four oval openings which give access to a bottom shelf. The Spin II is available in two colours: black and white. It blends perfectly with a lounge, a waiting room or a study.

● A small Piano table is an ideal solution for people committed to comfort and functionality. The base of the table is made of chrome-plated metal, and thanks to its untypical form it can be pushed under a sofa seat so that its plastic tray stays above it. A Piano table is excellent as a coffee or tea table in a modern room.
